

REMARKS/ARGUMENTS

For the avoidance of doubt, each of the mode implementors described in the claims presented in this amendment is capable to be implemented individually.

For the avoidance of doubt, the communication device described in the claims presented in this amendment is capable to implement the mode implementor(s) other than the mode implementors described in the claims.

For the avoidance of doubt, the claims are not limited to telecommunication devices pertaining to the U.S. class assigned to this application. The claims are also applicable to other types of computer devices pertaining to, for example, the U.S. class 361 (e.g., laptop computers).

Applicant has no intent to limit the scope of the claims presented in this amendment by the previous amendment(s) submitted by applicant.

Applicant has no intent to surrender any equivalent of any element included in the claims by any amendment of the claims unless expressly and unambiguously stated otherwise in the amendment.

Applicant has no intent to limit the scope or deny the patentability of this application by other applications filed by applicant.

Applicant has no intent to limit the scope or deny the patentability of other applications filed by applicant by this application.

No new matter is added by this amendment.